Filming Pope Francis: 36 Hours Behind the Scenes in Philadelphia

On September 26th and 27th, Philadelphia welcomed Pope Francis and an estimated 2 million visitors - the largest crowd ever - to the city. History Making Productions, an Emmy-Award winning production company founded by civic leader Sam Katz, was commissioned by the Archdiocese to produce a DVD set of the entirety of his visit, including events that were closed to the public. Join Katie Oxx, Field Producer of the DVD, Producer and Senior Historian of Urban Trinity: The Story of Catholic Philadelphia (which also premiered during the World Meeting of Families), and Assistant Professor of Religious Studies at Saint Joseph's University in Philadelphia, as she discusses the excitement, the challenges, and what it was really like in Philly and behind the scenes with the world's most famous man!

Presented by the Virgil Cordano, OFM, Endowment in Catholic Studies in the Department of Religious Studies, UC Santa Barbara.
